INTRODUCTION

Hello! My name is Anis Fadillah, an undergraduate Digital Business student with a strong interest in Digital Marketing, Social Media Management, and Content Creation. I have experience in managing social media content, creating visual designs, writing persuasive copy, and producing short-form video content through my roles as Media Creative, Social Media Manager, and Head of Communication & Information Division. These experiences have helped me develop creativity, communication skills, and an understanding of audience engagement strategies across digital platforms.

Through this internship opportunity, I hope to further develop my practical skills in digital marketing while contributing fresh ideas, creative storytelling, and strategic content planning to the team. I am eager to learn from industry professionals, gain real-world experience, and continuously improve my ability to create impactful digital campaigns that build strong audience engagement and brand awareness.

ABOUT ME ANIS FADILLAH

I am a sixth-semester student majoring in digital business at Jakarta Business School. I see myself as a creative thinker who views social media as more than just a platform for posting aesthetically pleasing visuals. To me, every photo taken and every second of a short video produced is a bridge of communication that must have stopping power and a real impact.

As an adaptable person, I'm always enthusiastic about exploring fresh ideas and new ways of storytelling. I believe that great content isn't just content that's viewed by many people, but content that builds a connection with the audience.

Through my experience, I've learned that producing high-quality content—whether in the form of photos, videos, carousels, posters, broadcasts, or articles can deliver excellent results for both me and the company.

TikTok : @architadesia

The TikTok account @architadesia focuses on delivering educational and informative content related to the world of education and digital business. In managing this account, I am responsible for developing content concepts that highlight the creator's personal brand as both a lecturer and the Head of the Digital Business Program. In addition to ensuring that information is presented in an engaging and easy-to-understand manner, I also implement a call-to-action (CTA) strategy at the end of each video, encouraging the audience to leave a comment for a chance to win a free one-time lecture at Jakarta Business School. This strategy is used to increase audience interaction, enthusiasm, and engagement with the published content.

Instagram : @bem.itbj

On the Instagram account @bem.itbj, I was involved in managing semi-formal content as a platform for information and documentation of campus activities. The published content includes information on work programs, announcements of major holidays, documentation of organizational activities, and the dissemination of important information for both internal and external campus audiences. In managing this content, I ensure that each post features visuals that are informative, communicative, and consistent with the organization's identity to build a professional image and increase engagement among the campus audience.

TikTok : @anak.debe

The TikTok account @anak.debe is an entertainment account managed collaboratively by a group of students, including myself. In managing this account, I contribute to the process of brainstorming content ideas, developing creative concepts, and producing content that aligns with social media trends to ensure it remains relevant and engaging for the audience. The account's primary focus is to deliver lighthearted, interactive entertainment content that boosts engagement through creative approaches that resonate with student life.
